Boston, Nov. 28 .- Now that control of the Utah Copper company is in dispute an official announcement bearing upon the copper merger can hardly be expected within the next few days. It appears that the American Smelting & Refining interests believed they would experience no difficulty in swinging control of Utah Copper to J. P. Morgan & Co., but they have met with an ob-

These interests are of the opinion that Utah Copper should go in the combination at a much higher figure than suggested and do not propose to surrender their stock at a figure around present quotations. The two factions mentioned have been increasing their holdings, and it is this contest that has caused such sharp advance in the shares of the company.

He de the way so that there need be no mistake about finding them.

While the facts in relation to that remarkable field have been related occasionally in the press, Utah people generally appear to have failed to appreciate their import. Colonel A. C. A syndicate of Ogden citizens has done some work there. And that is about the extent of what has And that is about the extent of what has advance in the shares of the company.

Utah Copper is perhaps the most important company in the Guggenheim group. Without it only one important Guggenheim mine, the Nevada Consolidated, would be added to the consolidation. Interests identified with the Utah Copper company have been on a tour of inspection in western mining camps for the last three weeks.

Further headway in the matter of bringing the Amalgamated Cole-Ryan H. E. Peterson, a San Francisco engi-

The company's Lucin property contains a large surface deposit of high-grade copper ore, on top of a mountain. Extensive prospecting has falled to disclose a permanent ore body at depth. Much of the mining has been done by quarrying. Two pipe lines and one railway have been surveyed into the field. The operators to date seem to have confined their attention to striking oil in the upper stands, so as to prove up their holdings at the minimum of cost and in the shortest space of time. Most of the companies are employing Star portable rigs, but a few are now ready to install heavy Standard rigs for the purpose of drilling Recently a number of caves occurred which led to abandonment of work by the company. Work is being prosecuted by leasers, who are shipping some ore.

Osceola has gone tungston mad, for everyone of the locations and amended locations was made on tungsten, or purported tungsten lands, about 18 miles southeast of Osceola. This is in the vi-cinity of O. A. Turner and E. L. Fletcher's tungsten property, and the work done on the latter and the reports therefrom are so favorable that the residents of Osceola determined to step out of their back yards and pick up some tungsten. Not a very great deal has been said of the tungsten properties over there, but Messrs. Turner and Fletcher have been going quietly along about their business making a mine. The development which has been made has stirred the owners to the putting in of improvements in the way of sawmills and machinery.
